Speak Business English Confidently or a generic online teacher?

→ Online platforms for live teachers are a great tool to practice for fun... But you also must spend time trying different teachers to find the right teacher for you. You don't really get any structure, or a tested program to help you learn with the best results. You don't get community learning, and you won't have a variety of accents and levels of English. Remember, in business, you will not only talk to English teachers! So learning to communicate with people of different accents is essential!
